INVESTMENT BANKING FOR LIFE SCIENCES AND CHEMICALS

For Immediate Release

Dr. Stephen Spielberg, former Deputy Commissioner of the FDA, joins Young & Partners

New York, NY, June 11, 2018 - Young and Partners, LLC, an international investment banking firm dedicated to the life science and chemical industries, announced today that that Dr. Stephen P. Spielberg, formerly Deputy Commissioner for Medical Products at the US FDA, has joined Young & Partners. Dr. Spielberg has had a 40 year career in pediatrics, clinical pharmacology, drug safety, and pharmacogenomics. He will be working on projects at Young & Partners where his regulatory and scientific expertise is of benefit to the projects and the clients.

His career spans academia in the US and Canada (including serving as Dean of Dartmouth Medical School), the pharmaceutical industry (including being VP for Pediatric Drug Development at Johnson & Johnson), and drug regulation (as Deputy Commissioner for Medical Products at the US FDA). He recently served as Editor-in-Chief of Therapeutic Innovation and Regulatory Science, the journal of the Drug Information Association. He has published over 150 scientific papers, and received numerous awards for his work advancing therapeutics. Dr. Spielberg was educated at Princeton (AB, Biology), University of Chicago (MD-PhD (Pharmacology)), Children's Hospital Boston (Pediatric Residency), and NICHD (genetics fellowship).

“We are pleased to have a person of Dr. Spielberg’s caliber and expertise join Young & Partners,” said Peter Young, president of Young & Partners. “His addition to the firm is consistent with our strategy to provide clients with extraordinary industry expertise coupled with exceptional investment banking execution by very senior, highly accomplished bankers”
